

Student reps brainstorming session

Chatham High School captains Brett Grant and Tilly Mobbs with SRC members from district schools.

STUDENT Representative Council members from a number of Manning and Camden Haven schools came together on Monday for the District SRC meeting at Chatham High School.

This was the first meeting of its kind in about two years and organisers are hoping they will become a common occurrence, with the next scheduled for June 6.

Schools in attendance included Chatham High School, Taree High School, Wingham High School, Camden Haven High School, Bulahdelah Central School and Gloucester High School.

The students used the day to brainstorm different activities for the SRC to run within their schools, share ideas of some initiatives that have worked and work out ways they can help their schools and the wider community through fundraising and setting an example for other students.

From these meetings there will be four representatives chosen to attend the State SRC Conference in Sydney.
