Message from Chatham High School principal, Willem Holvast

ON behalf of the staff and parents of Chatham High School I would wish all students success in their studies in 2011.

Chatham High School has a proud history of recognising the academic, sporting and cultural achievements of its students.

In recognition of this Chatham High School has obtained Centre for Excellence status that includes:

- Employment of a highly accomplished teacher to drive quality teaching initiatives and strategies.

- Opportunities to enhance out partnerships with partner primary schools through a stage 3 to stage 4 transition program, which includes a range of shared projects for both staff and students.

- Partnership with University of Newcastle to support middle school quality teaching initiatives.

A celebration of learning took place earlier this term when staff, students and family joined to congratulate Emily Wood as dux of Chatham High School for 2010.
