

Schools celebrate NAIDOC

SCHOOLS across the Manning will be marking NAIDOC Week over the next few days.

NAIDOC stands for the National Aborigines and Islanders Day Observance Committee.

Chatham High School's NAIDOC Week celebrations this week focused around the theme of "Change: the next step is ours" and featured indigenous dance and performance.

Among the performers was didgeridoo player Christopher Andrews.

NAIDOC Week is July 3 to 10 and falls during school holidays.
