

Sarah studying double degree at Armidale

LANSDOWNE girl, Sarah Stuart is about to start a new chapter in her life as she gets ready to leave home to attend university.

Sarah attended Lansdowne Primary School and graduated from Chatham High School.

She will be attending the University of New England in Armidale, studying a bachelor of criminology/laws which is a five year degree.

Sarah received the University of New England's award for excellence along with a $2000 scholarship.

Sarah Stuart and her mother Jayne Stuart – this photo was taken the night of her formal last year.